

WE NOMINATE

Henry Chauncey, a driving force in the development of the American educational community and a molder of modern-day Princeton, who following his retirement (July 1st) from the presidency of Educational Testing Service has entered upon still another challenging and absorbing assignment. The 65-year old Chauncey, known as "Mr. ETS" since he was instrumental in its founding in 1917, is the new president of the Interuniversity Communications Council, Inc. (EDUCOM), a consortium of some 100 colleges and universities throughout the country working cooperatively to advance the use of computer and communications technology.

Few statesmen on the American educational scene, particularly in an era when the average college or university president serves less than 5 years, can tick off achievements in any way commensurate with all this Harvard-trained native of Brooklyn, N.Y., crammed into his decades as ETS' founding president. The hallmark of his leadership of what is essentially an educational "conglomerate" was tremendous, and intelligent, growth. Two sets of comparative figures, bracketing 1950 and the present, attest to the dramatic on-ward and upward surge: in 1950 some 76,000 students took College Board tests compared with 1,960,000 in 1969, while the regular staff in 1950 numbered 239 as against almost 1,100 today.

First associated with the College Board in the 1930's as Chairman of the Committee of Examiners in Social Studies, Chauncey in 1943 and 1944 took a leave of absence from his Harvard duties as Assistant Dean of the Faculty and Chairman of the Committee on Scholarships to serve the College Board as Associate Director of the Army-Navy Qualifying Test. He returned from Cambridge in 1915 and since that day, in the words of an associate, guided first the Board and then ETS as "its leader, chief scout, principal athlete, toastmaster, research stimulator, world spokesman, egg-throw champion, program developer, caroling director, facilities planner and whatever else the occasion called for."

An ETS staff member recently remarked, "We have a test for admission to everything except heaven" — and he was right. In addition to the extensive battery of College Board Tests, ETS during Chauncey's tenure has initiated testing programs in an incredible variety of fields. In a special category, for instance, there is the Test of English as a Foreign Language to measure the proficiency of foreign students and others applying for education in an English-speaking country and, among the plethora of professional examinations, the National Teacher Examinations, the Chartered Life Underwriter Examinations, the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology Examination.

One measure of ETS' outreach under Chauncey's direction and stimulation has been the steady, carefully planned growth of its research activities. With research expenditures in 1969 coming to $3,600,000, or approximately 38% of the overall budget, the annual rate of growth has remained fairly constant from the earliest years when yearly expenditures were only about $100,000. The single Research Division of 1949 has now been expanded into 4: the original Division of Psychological Studies (human development, learning, personality and social behavior, and psychometrics), the Developmental Research Division, Educational Studies and, finally, the Division of Computation Sciences.

For his "deep concern for freedom of teaching and learning;" for influencing by his "personality, style and values the very tone of the testing movement in this country;" for endowing this community with an outstanding educational institution that must be numbered among Princeton's major assets; he is our nominee as

ANNOUNCEMENT AUGUST 4
On Fate of the Tower. The Tower is still up in the air. The Regional Planning Board made its decision on the controversial structure Tuesday night after an executive session, but will not announce what that decision is until a special meeting in Borough Hall at 8:30. Tuesday, August 4.

Hans K. Sander, board chairman, says the board wants to have all the legal points lined up carefully in a row, before making the announcement. Public sentiment, expressed in numerous petitions, largely by residents of Mt. Lucas Road and adjoining streets, is mainly against ending the building.

The Tower never would have come before the public at all, if it hadn't been for the three-year-old site plan ordinance, says Mayor John D. Wallace has pointed out.

The structure is proposed for the Township's Service Zone, which meets all the requirements of the zoning ordinance for that zone. W. Joseph Shinn, the Township's zoning officer, has informed the site plan review board.

Prior to 1967, builders of the Tower would simply have followed the standard procedures of obtaining a building permit, moving in with the bulldozers, since no variances or special permits are required.

But under the site plan ordinance, a builder of anything but a single family house, must submit plans showing how his building will fit on the site and he must conform to certain standards in regard to exits and entrances, drainage and so on.

The site plan review board then approves or disapproves, and passes its decision on to the Planning Board. In the Tower case, the site plan board approved the architects' proposals.

No! Opponents of the Tower originally descended on the Planning Board July 7. The current round of Tower talk began last Thursday night when residents crowded into Borough Hall's Council chamber to present their arguments again to the Planning Board. The talk continued into Monday night when Township Committee found itself confronted with dozens of residents who came to Township Hall under the mistaken impression that Committee was going to talk about the Tower.

On Thursday, John W. Bauman, 631 Mt. Lucas Road, member of the Planning Board, temporarily against the Tower bearing 1461 signatures. Mr. Bauman asked to have it back because it was actually addressed to Township Committee.

"We Don't Close Up in the Summer!"

At the start of a standing-room-only, three-hour meeting Monday night in Township Hall, Mayor John D. Wallace said to audience and Committee,

"We don't close up in the summer!"

People who still think Princeton closes down in the summertime should glance at the municipal calendar:

- The "Tower at Princeton" has occupied the new Regional Planning Board for three seasons, each one crowded with intensely interested spectators.
- The Township will introduce a major zoning amendment to the Educational Districts in August, for public hearing in September, and is working out recommendations for business, service and shopping districts for presentation this fall.
- Princeton University, with its Princeton Inn jig saw puzzle, has been in and out of various municipal always with an audience of keenly interested and sometimes contentious spectators.
- Fair-housing ordinances have been introduced in both Borough and Township, marking a milestone in civil rights in the community.
- Legal arguments against assessments, presented by individuals and institutions, occupied most of that three-hour meeting in Township Hall.
- And even the school board, which hoped for a long, cool summer, has found that it must hold an August public meeting after all.

By Monday night, when it reached its destination, the petition had grown to 1,830 signatures.

Committee declined to talk about the Tower on Monday because the Planning Board meeting was only 24 hours in the future. But it did hear a serious proposal from one resident for a moratorium on building in the area and a plea from Mr. Bauman for "utmost restraint" in changing the zoning from the present Service Zone to keep the Tower out.

The Case. At Thursday night's meeting, Peter T. Bacsik, attorney for Collins, Uhl, Holsington and Anderson, designers and builders of the Tower, reminded the Planning Board that the Tower office building conforms to the Service Zone requirements of the 1953 zoning law and is perfectly legal.

B. A. L. Moffat, Pheasant Hill Road, suggested that when the ordinance says "offices" are allowed, it doesn't necessarily mean "office buildings" but perhaps merely the office spaces in a small business or store.

Members of Mr. Bauman's "Committee of Concerned Citizens" protested the Tower's 160-foot height and suggested that the Service Zone's lack of a height limit is an oversight; the Research Engineering zone has a height limitation.

W. Ronald Roach of Rocky Hill, predicted that overflow waters would damage properties in Rocky Hill, to the north of the Tower. He charged that no one had presented expert information on how to solve the problem.

Jan Walker, executive director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, also expressed concern about run off. He urged construction of underground retention basins to control peak flows of water.

J. L. Tripp, 28 Mt. Lucas predicted 1,735 cars on Mt. Lucas daily if the Tower were built.

Questioned about who his tenants would be and where they would come from, Harrison Uhl said that his inquiries had come from Princeton people by a 2:1 ratio. He said his tenants would be office and professional people.

Mrs. Scott Nelson, Mt. Lucas Road, warned that doctor tenants would be heavy traffic producers.

Mr. Uhl told his critics that his firm had designed the project especially to reduce run off and to preserve the ecology of the area. If catch-basins or retention basins were needed he would build them, he stated.

Mr. Holsington pointed out the risk in the area is increasing anyway, and that the percentage of additional run off from the Tower would be very small.

Change? Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Planning Board, observed that the 1953 zoning law, under which the Tower is legal, was framed in years ago when the Township had half as many people as it has today.

Very little land is left in the Service Zone, he remarked, adding that the zone must be considered together with the 400-acre Office and Research Zone. The Township's own Planning Board is currently working on the revision of the municipality's zoning ordinance. "The law must be examined periodically to see if it's still applicable," Mr. Sander said.

INN TO PRESENT PLANS. The Borough Zoning Board, Nassau Inn will present plans to add a kitchen and office addition to the Borough Zoning Board at the board's 8 p.m. meeting Thursday.

The kitchen would be located in back of the Goodie Room and the office above it on a second level. The Inn needs a conditional use authorization to add a kitchen in a central business zone — and a floor area ratio variance.

James and Anna Smith, owners of a double house at 12 1/4 Vandeventer Avenue, which houses four apartments, want to convert the first floor at 14 Vandeventer into a dentist's office. It would be occupied by Peter DiMauro.

The four apartments would remain; the added space for the office would be gained by reducing the size of one of the apartments. A conditional use authorization can be granted only when certain conditions are met and this application allegedly fails to meet those concerning parking and open space.

Samuel Myer, 144 Mercer Street, needs a side yard variance to build a proposed addition to his home. In a final case, Peter DiMauro wants to convert part of his basement into retail use. It would like to devote its entire lower level to books and relate case its stationery and gift departments in the basement.

An issue has been raised, however, by an interpretation by zoning officer Bernard Glover. The store is located in an educational zone where permits stores primarily devoted to the sale of educational and athletic supplies and equipment. Mr. Glover believes the U Store exceeds those limitations.

University officials, on the other hand, hotly deny this. In their application they are asking only for a reversal of the zoning officer's decision that the applicant needs a use variance.

If Mr. Glover is reversed, all the university will need is authorization of a conditional use permit.

NUDE ON NASSAU

Adam Arnsperg, a man who allegedly told police that he was Adam was arrested by Borough police Monday morning at he was on the Princeton University Wall in front of Firestone Library.

Police have tentatively identified him as Curtis Chambers, about 20, of Fort Lauderdale.

For H. H. H. been charged with being under the influence of a drug and open lewdness by P. J. Gerald Patterson.

After he was unable to give any identification as to who he was at police headquarters, he was taken to Princeton Hospital for an examination. A doctor there ordered him committed for seven days to the State Hospital in Trenton.

Upon his release from the hospital he will be processed by the police. His bail was set at $1,000.

From their investigation, police believe that Chambers has been in the Princeton area about a month. P. J. Patterson made the arrest around 8:30 after the desk officer had received numerous calls most of them from merchants across the street.

One officer could only shake his head and say, "We get them all in Princeton."

THREE FINED $15
For Careless Driving. Three Princeton area residents were each fined $15 Monday by Judge Theodore T. Tams in Borough Court for careless driving.

They are Kathryn M. Yoder, 153 Meadows, Brook Drive; David M. Vourhes, 1711 Shaw Drive, Kingston; and Geoffrey Graham, 17 54 Maclean Circle. Mr. Graham pleaded no guilty.

Michael Candelori, 31, 153 Penn. Is. E., was fined $15 for speeding. Kevin Kennedy, 16, Heronstown Road, paid $19 and $18 for speeding. Other fines: William R. Gubrod, 20, 50 Wilton Street, $15, driving a motorcycle on a permit without presence of licensed driver; John T. O'Neil Jr., 31, 124 Heather Lane, $12, disregarding stop sign; and Steven P. Miller, 37, 445 Prospect Avenue, $10, improper maintenance of rear lights.

Earlier, Frank A. Boccauto, 32 Oakland Road, paid six fines of $15 each. Three were for operating a motorcycle without goggles, two for unregistered vehicle and another for failing to wear a helmet. A seventh, late-inspection charge was dismissed.

For ignoring the list of sum monses, Judge Tams also revoked his license for 30 days.

Six in Township. Last week in Township Court, Judge Bucken Peskin fined six Princeton residents.

Robert J. Cenerino, 20, 57 Leigh Avenue paid two fines—$30 as an unlicensed driver, and $15, driving an unregistered motorcycle. An unregistered vehicle charge cost Thomas S. Bonthron, 18, The Great Road, $29.

Paying $15 each were Patricia L. Casserty, 40, 53 Cuyler Road, disregarding stop sign, and Robert L. Cope, 47, Canal Road, driving a car that had an expired registration.

Driving without a valid license cost John F. Hornighausen, 24, 117 Library Place, $30. Lawrence C. Mueller, 24, 391 Riverside Drive, paid $20 for careless driving.

WHO PAYS?

Not Me. "Why should we pay for a road we didn't ask for and don't plan to use?" The question was asked of Township Committee Monday night by the attorney for Tenacre, the Christian Science rest home on The Great Road. But it was posed also by Elmer K. Timby, a private property owner, and by counsel for Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, also on The Great Road.

All three were protesting assessments levied for construction of the re-alignment that straightened out The Great Road. Committee decided to table the assessors' report.

Tenacre and Mr. Timby contend that public funds should pay the whole $175,000 cost of the re-alignment. The Township paid 60% assessing the remainder to property-owners. Tenacre is being assessed $25,000, Mr. Timby $18,000.

Tenacre's lawyer pointed out that the institution's buildings face the old Great Road and he said the re-alignment is therefore meaningless from Tenacre's point of view. He told Committee the institution owns 9.4 acres because the re-alignment cut through the property. The snipped-off parcel was sold, and Tenacre admits it didn't lose any money; however, the Tenacre site is now smaller by 3.4 acres, and the institution is afraid this may restrict future building under the Township's zoning requirements.

The Open Space Commission would like a 200-foot strip of land from Tenacre along the new Great Road alignment. Assessors are willing to adjust the assessment if Tenacre deeds that strip to the Township in perpetuity.

Owners Don't Benefit. Mr. Timby, in an eight-page statement, pointed out that safety was the prime reason for re-aligning the road and that therefore, the beneficiaries of the re-alignment are motorists and not property-owners along the road.

"Not a single driveway" connects the re-aligned road and the properties of those assessed, he charged.

He cited improvements made

MAN OF THE WEEK: Henry Chaney, who retired as president of FTS on July 1, is the new president of the Interuniversity Communications Council, Inc.

on nearby segments of The Great Road which were paid for with state funds, and not assessments. "Why do you treat one group of owners one way and another group another way?" he demanded.

He charged that the Township denied him subdivision approval unless he deeded 1.18 acres for the right-of-way of the re-alignment without compensation. The acreage had cost him $3,000, Mr. Timby estimated. The owner of land next to Mr. Timby's, however, received $3,000 from the Township for his right-of-way, he said.

As Committee voted to table the assessments, Mayor Wallace said he wanted a chance to examine the records for answers to Mr. Timby's questions.

Later, Administrator Joseph R. Nini said he could not recall any instance in which a brand-new road, like the realignment, was built "from scratch" at public expense. "It's always on an assessment basis," he explained, "or else a developer pays the entire cost."

He added that the state doesn't provide the Township with enough road money to finance a project as expensive as the realignment.

Counsel for Stuart Country Day said the school on five occasions, had donated land to the Township at Town planning quest. The five include sewer easements, the bed of the realignment, and so on. "We will try to seek resolution for these donations, and we think the Township should consider them in setting our assessment," the school's attorney declared.

Stuart Country Day also produced appraiser Ridgely Cook who told Committee the new Great Road does not benefit the school.

Assessments for extending the Herrontown Road sewer were approved despite the protest of Kevin Kennedy, who said he was being assessed for the sewerage of a lot so small he never could build on it.

Committee told him his combined holdings on Herrontown were big enough so that he would have no trouble carrying out at least two lots that would conform to zoning requirements.

Other assessments for the Overbrook Drive and Snowden Lane sewers — were passed.

Committee introduced a fair-housing ordinance identical to the Borough's. It names the Princeton Joint Civil Rights Commission as the agency people can turn to if they feel there has been discrimination in housing. The municipal court is the next step.

Public hearing on the ordinance will be Monday, August 17.

Mosquito control, in this era of pollution sensitivity, is the most a dirty word. Edwin Hutter of Van Dyke Road, spoke with alarm about clouds of chemical spray spewing forth from Mercer County's control wagon as it lumbered along Snowden last week.

Melation mixed with kerosene is the spray, Mr. Hutter found out. Under present policy, residents can complain about mosquitoes to the Township's health officer, Mrs. Marcella Farley. She then notifies the county. No complaint, no spraying.

Warnings are issued over WHEAT. "If house-owners can call in the children and shut the windows, but house-owners have to be listening to the radio before the warning can do much good."

Interest rates on delinquent taxes and assessments will be 8% and 12% under the new Township regulation, passed Monday. The 8% rate will be charged for delinquencies up to $1,500 and 12% for those over $1,500.

An ordinance appropriating $19,500 for road resurfacing and the installation of guard rails were introduced. Public hearing August 3.

YOU CAN PARK HERE

Planners Tell University. The University's new Princeton Inn parking plan, presented last Thursday night to the Township Zoning Board (see elsewhere, "Topics of the Town") was approved Monday night by the Township's site plan review board meeting in quick, extra session and on Tuesday night by the Regional Planning Board.

Two members of the Planning Board — William Walker and T.B. Fisher — voted their disapproval of the plan.

A long string of conditions was attached to the approval, reflecting two hours of detailed, technical discussion of exits and entrances, the radius required to turn in a parking space and even the security and safety of students who park in an interior lot at the end of a long, narrow entrance. How can Princeton be plagued by traffic and lack of parking spaces, be sure the students will park in this proposed lot or any lot — and not use park spaces around town?

The University levies a $50 charge on car-owning students for use of University parking lots. Do students evade this fee and sneak into Princeton's own parking spaces?

Joseph Boyd, 152 Alexander Street, said the University should charge all students that $50, thereby removing the financial incentive to sneak the fee and park elsewhere.

Corn graining high
As an elephant's eye
Is a sure-enough sign
Of a healthy July.

The corn and a few lawns, tinged with brown, could use a little more rain, however. There is a strong chance of it in the next couple days, according to the weatherman, but those predictions of showers in the last two weeks haven't brought much to speak of yet.

Partly sunny skies should prevail most of the weekend with temperatures in the 80's granted, Frank Reiche, attorney for the University, told the Planning Board he was appalled over the course he had been required to run.

There is no coordination mechanism between the Regional Planning Board and the zoning boards of other Townships or Boroughs," he declared.

If the parking plan had been modified by the Planning Board, he said, the University would have had to go back to the Township Zoning Board, then in the site plan board and back again to the planners, repeating the same familiar route.

"We'd be happy to have your advice in this matter," said Hans K. Sander, Planning Board chairman.

In other matters, the Planning Board approved, with conditions, the three new lots on State Road proposed for development by Westley, Inc., and gave Princeton Day School permission to construct a one-way driveway from the school's campus to Pretty Brook Road. The driveway must be one way into the campus from Pretty Brook, the board stipulated.

DELAY ON NEW CHIEF?

No, Mayor Says. Appointment of a new Township police chief should be done by the new Committee that will take office January 1 and not by the current Committee, under the strict interpretation of the law, says Gordon Griffin, Township municipal attorney.

However, Mayor John D. Wallace said at his monthly press conference Tuesday that this was a "technical matter" and that the present Committee would indeed choose Chief Campbell's successor before January 1.

According to the legal line of thought, Committee can't very well appoint a chief when the Township already has one.

Chief James Campbell's retirement isn't effective until midnight December 31 and Lieutenant Richard Steiner is not "acting chief," but "officer in charge."

Also, the current Committee can't commit the new Committee that will move in on New Year's Day. It will be a "new" Committee because William L. Wilson isn't running again and will go out of office. The new member who takes his seat automatically creates a "new" committee.

At his press conference, the mayor announced that he and Administrator Joseph R. Nini would meet this Thursday with Mercer County Freeholder Arthur Sytek to discuss mosquito control, possible Princeton use of the county incinerator, the advisability of making Mercer Road part of the county road system, a Leont Lane culvert and the county's plans for reconstructing the curving old Quaker Bridge on Mercer Road.

END COMES QUICKLY

In University Zoning Case.

The lengthy dispute between Princeton University and Joseph M. Boyd over the location of offstreet parking at the Princeton Inn Dormitory ended quickly and almost anticlimactically last week when Frank P. Reiche, attorney for the University, told the Township Zoning Board that he would make an amendment to the University's application. Instead of locating the additional parking a half mile away on its Faculty Road lot which the University had tried to make a case for in two previous sessions, Mr. Reiche told the board that the University wanted to take advantage of "something that just opened up as a possibility for us in the past few days."

In essence, he reported that the lease of the Postal Annex building at the foot of University

Cleveland Lane from Elm Road to Lafayette Road will be closed for the next two weeks while the Borough Engineering Department installs a new storm drains and curbing in the area. Afterwards, the rutted and pock marked roadway will be surfaced.

The road there is just a victim of old age," said a member of the department. The present surface dates back to the early 1930s, he said.

ty Place, which the university owns, will end September 3. The University would take the parking spaces assigned to that building and, in addition, level the old one story Becker's Dairy building next door to provide 88 spaces.

The former dairy building is presently used as a maintenance shop for the University's real estate department. The postal annex building will remain, he said.

Reason for Change. The reason for this change, Mr. Reiche told the board, "is an effort on the part of Princeton University to meet some of the objections that have been voiced in this application. We feel

How Far Aways is Consolidation? (Nobody knows)

"Our gut reaction on Committee is distinctly favorable toward consolidation with the Borough in the Board of Health area," stated Township Mayor John D. Wallace this week in his mid-year report.

Doctors Donald Pickering and Richard L. Barach of the Township Board of Health are studying ways the Township and Borough Boards of Health could legally be consolidated. "We await their report with eager interest," the mayor stated.

The Township also favors a joint Borough-Township Park and Recreation Department and Mayor Wallace thinks parks and health are the easiest and most logical next steps in "consolidation."

Also, Administrators Joseph R. Nini (Township) and Robert F. Mooney (Borough), with William Evans of the school board, are exploring ways to make joint purchases of things like fuel oil, to save money. The Township thinks a community-wide garbage collection system would ease the pressure on the besieged incinerator.

Actual legal and political consolidation of Borough and Township is still definitely possible, Mayor Wallace believes.

"The state's consolidation study wasn't designed to get into projections of growth, land development and future capital needs," he explained. "The real question is the five-ten year future: what will the costs and growth be? We expect to approach various joint boards, including the school board, asking for projections. I understand Mayor Cavley in the Borough is considering the same kind of study. Factoring in future probable growth — what would the picture be? This is the real question so far as consolidation is concerned."

this does substantially meet the objections of Mr. Boyd."

After a meeting in executive session, the board granted the University a variance to locate the parking as outlined by Mr. Reiche. It did, however, attach some conditions. One, that 13 parking spaces be set aside and marked for visitors only. These would be located in front of the dormitory, Mr. Reiche said.

Secondly, entrances and exits to the lot were to be open at all times. No gates. These first two conditions had been requested by Mr. Boyd.

Also, the board ruled that the postal annex could not be used by anyone else other than the University, and that the dairy building had to be torn down.

In granting the variance, the board said that the lot would not be a detriment to the surrounding area. Originally, Mr. Reiche had asked for an interpretation from the board, saying zoning laws were "silent" on the issue that off street parking had to be provided on the same lot. He withdrew his request and asked for a variance instead.

Seymour Montgomery, Mr. Boyd's attorney, commented later: "This change meets substantially the criticisms we had of the other plan. We're satisfied with it and we withdraw our opposition to it."

In all, the University has to supply 113 spaces plus those 10 for visitors — a total of 123. Thirty-five are in existence at the Inn. Main access to the lot will be off University Place. There is also direct access to the lot from Alexander Street for pedestrians by way of College Lane, which is adjacent to the former Van Nostrand building, now owned by the University. Eighty of the 88 spaces will be in the Township.

Why The Opposition? After the loss ends were tied up by Mr. Reiche concerning lighting, supervision and the guarantee that the University has no plans to reactivate the postal annex, board member Thomas S. Fullmer asked Mr. Montgomery, "We've been listening to this case for so long and we never did get to hear Mr. Boyd. I'd be interested in the reasons he was opposed to it."

"Our objections fell in two main classes," Mr. Montgomery replied. "One was based on the impact it would surely have had on public parking in the neighborhood. We feel it would have caused parking on Alexander Street and University Place — probably illegally, based on experiences with Van Nostrand when there was a lot of double parking. Their employees pre-empted public parking and we felt this would start all over again. (Mr. Boyd lives at 132 Alexander.)"

"Secondly, those students who did go to the Faculty Road lot, we felt would try to discover shortcuts back to the Inn. We felt they would cut across the railroad tracks — a dangerous practice — and cut through private property. And for girls to have to walk that

A Contest for Every Talent at the Playgrounds

Princeton's playgrounds are busy places in the summer months, producing winners and runners-up in just about every contest imaginable. Here are some of the highlights in games held last week:

"Little Miss Erdman" pageant was held at the Erdman playground, with Jaunie Parsells walking off with the title of Little Miss Erdman. Jamie Pinars was first runner-up, Joanie Dinsmore, second, Christy Dinsmore, third and Claire Dinsmore, fourth.

At Grover Park, Tony Ferrara blew an amazing 186 bubbles in the 15-minute limit to capture first place in the annual Bubble Gum Blowing Contest. The biggest bubble was blown by Michele Procciani; the messiest by Freddy Wilson and Tony Tran.

In a dress up contest featuring original costumes, held at Marquand Park, first prizes went to Gay, Simon and Graham Barnett dressed as a flower & a gardener and a bee, respectively. Second prizes were awarded to Ann Healey, a spider, and Colleen Clancy, as Buck Finn; third prizes went to Superman John Healy and a bride, Ann Paynter.

A dog show was held at the high school playground with four categories. Mario Tamei had the longest dog, Kelly Updyk had the shyest dog; Adam Ruderman, the smallest dog; and Gay Gianacaci, the prettiest dog.

Finally, at Johnson Park, when the dismal weather caused an air of restlessness and mood, it became necessary to devise a game to suit the situation. The "Quiet Contest" was won by "Silent Jeff Lippincott," second place a tie between Clark Lippincott, Dave Lewis and M. Lambert, and third place to "Loquacious Norman Lewis."

distance at night presented a lot of hazards."

"Yes" in Four. The board said "yes" to four other applications.

It granted a side yard variance of 7.5 feet to Edward L. Anderson Jr. of 9 Ober Road to build a carport. It granted a three-acre two variance of 41 feet, consisting mainly of an increase in overhang to Peter Budd, 46 Herrontown Road. Mr. Budd is building an 800 square foot addition to the rear of his home.

It extended for another year the special permit it has granted Mrs. Ruth Sharon, 50 Deer Path, which enables her to teach art and craft classes at her home.

It recommended to Township Committee that Princeton Research Land, Poor Farm Road and Mount Lucas Road, be granted a variance that would permit it to use a two-room building primarily as a residence and to house overnight guests. The small building has been used as a residence since the 1940s. The board stipulated that the proposed remodeling abide with Township health and building codes.

Stuart Carothers of Commodities Corporation, which leased the five-acre, three-building property to PRL, told the board the area has no public lighting and is far distant from other buildings. "We have a security problem," he said. Stating that the main office building contained more than $50,000 in office equipment, he added: "We're sitting ducks for vandals and robbers."

And One Denied. An application by Anna Stachurski for a series of variances to erect a home on a narrow lot at 422 Ewing Street which she owns was denied.

Builder William Fisher planed to build a 2600 square foot home with an underground two-car garage on the lot. Sale of the lot was contingent on the granting of the variance.

A half-dozen neighbors protested the size of the proposed home. Said one, Angelo Nini of 38 Hillside: "Since this property is directly behind me, I don't want a house seven feet from my property line. It's like a railway station. I'll be stuck with this thing."

UNIAPY ENDING

In Stolen Car Caper. The police are happy — they have two suspects in custody — but no doubt Tony Nini, owner of Nini Chrysler, Plymouth or Road 296, is unhappy about the fate of two 1970 cars that were stolen last week from his lot.

One was demolished in a high speed chase in Newark, Delaware; the second was stripped of its wheels and carburetor. In New Castle, Delaware, Township police were notified of the two events by Delaware authorities.

Two fugitives being held in custody on Delaware warrants from the Township police are Leuthus Chapman, 22, and Larry D. Kennedy, 22. Both are from Wilmington.

MAN SLASHED ON CAMPUS

In Front of Nassau Hall. The slaying of a 43-year old man as he slept on the ground in front of Nassau Hall last week joins the list of incidents there which may ultimately force the University to make a decision it would like to avoid: which is more important — its open campus policy or getting rid of the undesirable persons who are taking increasing advantage of that policy.

Bleeding profusely from a gash in his right forearm, Santora Mendosa of Trenton staggered from the campus across Nassau Street to the doorway of the A&S Luncheonette around 11 p.m. last Thursday night.

Mr. Mendosa asked the proprietor to call the police. Sgt. John S. Bellow and Ptl. Kerry Kinkir arrived, and Sgt. Bellow applied an emergency bandage. The victim was taken to Princeton Hospital where 20

Chamber Guides Give Unhurried Tour of Princeton

An unhurried look at Princeton, its famous old houses and churches, its historic cemetery, its monuments, such as the ship's bell from the USS Princeton, are all a part of the Saturday walking tours that began three weeks ago.

The guides are Princeton teenagers, distinguished by the straw boaters on their heads and well briefed in Princeton lore by the Historical Society and Mrs. Eva Critz, executive of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council. The tours are Mrs. Critz's latest idea, and they are filling a long felt need. Years ago, she developed a Princeton tour of her own, as have many local hostesses, which ranges by car as far as the Stony Brook Meeting house on Quaker Road.

The walking tours leave the Nassau Inn lawn at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturdays. They are timed to last about one hour, and blend nicely into the Orange Key tours of the Princeton campus which are scheduled for 11:40 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

Much of the planning of the walking tours has been done by the young people, working together while Mrs. Critz was away at a management institute. There are maps available for tour-takers to buy, and the profits from these are already earmarked by Mrs. Critz for a party "for these wonderful kids."

The teens have divided Princeton into east and west tours — starting both at the Inn lawn and walking up to Nassau Street.

You find out, if you're on the western tour, that the original Nassau Inn was located where Skirm's Smoke Shop is now, the first of several examples of the way Princeton moves its buildings around.

The tour includes First Presbyterian Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church — both viewed from the sidewalk with comment by the guides, and then moves along to No. 2 Nassau Street, where Princeton Bank & Trust was founded in 1834. Palmer House on the corner of Nassau and Bayard Lane is pointed out.

The western tour includes Princeton Battle Monument, unveiled in 1922 by President Warren Harding; Borough Hall and its beautiful garden that residents seldom see — and the USS Princeton's great bell mounted at the entrance to the Hall.

The main portion of "Morny," built in 1701 by Richard Stockton, is shown by the guides, then Thomson Hall, built across the street around 1825.

The tour includes Trinity Episcopal Church, built in 1868; the Present Day Club; Speer Library; Albert Einstein House (112 Mercer Street) and "Springdale," built in the late 1840's and now the residence of the Seminary president.

It includes the Nassau Club building, a private residence when it was built about 1813 by the Rev. Samuel Miller of Princeton Seminary. On to Alexander Street, originally "Canal Street," where examples of Charles Steadman houses are pointed out, and to Dukeson Street, University Place and past the University's dining halls, one time site of the old University Hotel and the Peacock Inn.

The eastern tour meanders to Bainbridge House, headquarters of the Historical Society, to the Public Library and to Princeton Cemetery.

It includes the beautiful old Beatty House at 19 Vardevener Street, former residence of Revolutionary War Colonel Erskines Beatty, which was moved from its Nassau Street location across from Bainbridge House. The eastern tour recites the history of Palmer Square, Joseph Henry House and the Dean's House on the campus, all viewed from the Nassau Street sidewalk. The Methodist Church and the Steadman house behind the Garden Theatre are on the list, as is the site of the Hudibras Tavern.

The tours are limited to 25 people in a group. Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce, 921-7676. If you're lucky, as some were last Saturday, you may catch a partially filled tour at the Inn lawn. Cost is 50¢ per person.

Questions on Weller Tract.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
It would seem that some aspects of the Institute for Advanced Study's desire to develop the Weller tract for faculty housing have not been made public. Why was the Friends Meeting not given the opportunity to buy the tract when the Institute did?
The Meeting had indicated to the previous owners that it would like the opportunity to purchase should the land come on the market, and as adjacent landowners it would seem an appropriate that we be informed that it was available.

Why did Minot Morgan appear before the Friends Meeting last year before public opinion had been aroused and lead us to understand that we had only two alternatives: houses immediately behind the Meetinghouse; or houses slightly removed for which we would agree not to permit Institute development publicly should public outcry develop?

Why is the Institute so determined to develop this particular piece of land when it owns other land and could develop elsewhere? What incentives would be more convenient for faculty?

Why, if the Institute does sell the land, does it feel it should make such a big profit? One figure mentioned is $25,000.

What pressures were brought to bear on individual members of the Princeton Open Space Commission to make them reverse their decision?

The Friends Meetinghouse pre-dates the Revolutionary War and offers a peaceful refuge from modern hustle-bustle for many visitors daily. Should we destroy the surrounding woods to provide housing for a few well-off faculty members?

CONNIE BIRCH
Princeton Junction
Station Meters Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
As a responsible non commuting citizen I wish to present my strongest objection to the short sighted proposal by the Princeton mayor to install parking meters in the parking areas of the Penn Central Railroad station on University Place.

The installation of such meters will further discourage the use of public rail transportation with the consequent results of highway overcrowding, noise and most of all pollution.

The reduction of passengers, as a consequence of this move, might also induce the ailing Penn Central to drop the Princeton Jct. Princeton spin altogether. Its loss could never be made up by the revenue from parking meters "that will pay for themselves in only one year."

The mayor is looking for the "quick tax back" but forgets that one reason for Princeton's attractiveness is the fact that the Penn Central Railroad runs right into town.

sutures where used to close the wound.

Mr. Mendosa told police that he had been asleep in front of Nassau Hall when two men awakened him and took $25 from his pocket. One of the pair then slashed his arm.

Lt. Michael Carnevale reported, "We have no suspects, no witnesses."

SILVUS IS CHARGED
In Alleged Rape Here. Tyrone D. Silvus, 23, of Trenton, a former Princeton resident, has been charged with the alleged rape last week of a 24 year old married woman near Carnegie Lake.

He is currently free on $5,000 bail set by Township Judge Burton Peskin. No date has been set for his hearing police said.

The victim was reportedly attacked between 11 and 11:30 in the morning as she was walking along the Delaware River Canal on the north side of the late Silvus was picked up over two days later by Trenton police on information supplied by Sgt. Michael Lasi and Detective Samuel Bianco and Norman Servis of the Township Police.

TWO WOMEN INJURED
In Rosedale Road Crash. Township Ptl. Maria Musso is still investigating an accident at 6:40 Tuesday night in front of 408 Rosedale Road which injured two women.

One driver, Queen Collins of Trenton, required seven stitches at Princeton Hospital for cuts to her left knee. Hilda H. Durbin, 698 Rosedale, the second driver, sustained injuries to her chin and stomach.

FORCED ENTRY MADE
Into Wiggins Street Home. A forced entry into the home of Richard Ellis, 36 Wiggins Street, last week netted the robber a portable television and three radios. The entry took place between 6:30 and 10:57 Thursday night.

"We had a few occurrences like this in the past and I think people ought to be aware of what's happening," commented Lt. Michael Carnevale. "If people go out for a few hours, they should make sure their home is secure."

Recent entries in the Borough have all followed a definite pattern, Lt. Carnevale continued. Mostly what has been taken are small appliances such as radios and television sets.

CAR LEVELS FENCE
On Route 206. Five 10-foot sections of cyclone fencing bordering Community Park on route 206 were leveled early Friday morning by a 1970 sport car out of control.
Betty Ann Hack, 19, of Trenton told police that she lost control of her car while rounding a slight curve. It crossed the fence and over the opposite line, ripping down the fence and ending inside the Community Park athletic field, a quarter mile south of Valley Road. Her 1970 Buick Wildcat was totally damaged.

Both Miss Hack and a passenger escaped injury in the 2:35 a.m. mishap. There were no charges by Ptl. Howard Sweeney.

Passenger Injured. Thomas Taylor, 19, 254 John Street, was treated at Princeton Hospital for contusions and sprain of the neck which he received Sunday afternoon when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in an accident.

MAKE A GIFT

And Keep Cool. You can make a scented candle, in almost any color you like, by melting candlewax, dropping in a little scent and a few drops of food coloring, carefully setting the wick and then pouring the whole brew into a Dixie cup.

When the wax hardens, you've got a candle to give Mother for her birthday.

At the YWCA this summer, girls in the 7-11 age range, are making presents. Candies, yes. Also hairclips, rings and earrings out of the tinest beads. Some kids found wood scraps, and the girls decided to paste beads on the wood, wrap some yarn just so and make a brace for it.

The class gathers on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:30 to 2:30 (juice provided) at the Y. A new group has just started and will meet from now until August 6. The $8.50 fee includes materials.

Diane Racoppi, a senior in music at Trenton State, teaches the course and talks over with her young craftsmen the kinds of gifts they'd like to make.

"I MADE IT MYSELF!" The gift you've made yourself is always better than the gift you buy, especially if you give it to a devoted admirer like Mother or Daddy. These girls, age 7-11, make their gifts in a YWCA summer class, and you can sign up for the new session right now. (Left to right) Donna Pilezza, Miriam Udovitch (showing off a ring she made), Heidi Dobrott, Nancy Grow and Amy Sleg. The teacher is Miss Diane Racoppi.

Earlier this summer, the four Hessian-made rag dolls stuffed with newspaper and endowed with pip, piercer ears. Some girls even made doll dresses.

This semester, Miss Racoppi gives a show to pupils how to make leather pocketbooks and how to carve a cork into "tubster stamps."

The workshop is cool and the atmosphere serene as the soft little girl voices chatter back and forth. A nice place to be if you're hot and tired.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION
... Better Than A Nickel Car. You always hear about the crime that happens but very seldom about the crime that was prevented, observed Lt. Michael Carnevale of the Borough Police Tuesday, in reporting such an instance.

He said that Sgt. John J. Bel low observed two juveniles, looking through cars in the Witherspoon Street lot after 11 p.m. Friday. He took both of them, each 15 years old from the Princeton area to headquarters.

An investigation revealed that one of the youths has a record of three previous car thefts. They were later released to the custody of their parents to await action by juvenile authorities.

"Parents invariably drop their kids off in town to go to a movie and they have to find a way to get back home — either by hitchhiking or stealing a car," he said.

VANDALISM CONTINUES
But You Can Help. "There's been a lot of vandalism this year," Lt. Michael Carnevale said on up to construction equipment. Lt. Michael Carnevale reported Tuesday.

When asked if it were worse than last year, he replied, "It isn't gotten any better."

This was in preamble to the point he wished to make: "The essential fact is when people take time to report suspicious persons or a suspicious incident, only then can we be of help."

"Citizens have to be concerned enough," he continued, "to give police a call. We don't ask for a name and there isn't a call that comes in that we don't check it out."

So it isn't a case of a per

OPEN WIDE-AND SAY BILCO

What's the difference between a dead end cellar and a basement for living? Direct access to the great outdoors.

The modern all-steel BILCO Basement Door keeps unnecessary traffic out of first floor rooms, lets your inside stair serve only inside traffic. Your basement is always convenient and useful. Tools, lawn furniture, bikes, sleds — everything moves easily in and out. Makes your basement safer, too.

For more living space downstairs — and less wear and tear upstairs — put a BILCO Basement Door on your home. Call us for free literature showing how to add the complete entrance or to replace your wooden hatchway if you already have the basement entryway.

son becoming involved, all we really want is information. Only when persons are concerned enough to report acts of vandalism, only then can we hope to be successful," he said.

GROVER PARK WINNER

In Playground Olympics held Friday at Princeton High School, Grover Avenue playground was the easy winner with 82 points. Grover is directed by Archie Freeman, former Princeton High School basketball and baseball athlete.

Community Park was second with 35 points, Princeton High School third (29) and Harrison fourth (25). Other Princeton playgrounds participating were Erdman, Riverside, Little Brook, Marquand and Johnson. Winners will go on to participate in a Junior Olympic Development Meet to be held later this summer.

Contestants were grouped by age: 11 or Midget; 12-13, Junior; 14-15 Intermediate, and by sex. Events, not the same for each group, consisted of bas-kettball foul shooting, softball pitch for accuracy, 50-yard dash, running broad jump, softball throw for distance, 200-yard shuttle relay, and 75 and 100 yard dash.

First place winners for middle boys were Scott Tran, John Nash, Michael Fuchini (both 30 yard dash and running broad jump) and Dana Nini. For mid got girls, Carol Ann Mazzella, softball throw for distance and accuracy, Barbara Miller, and Debbie Gritti.

In junior boys, winners were Tony Tran, George Reynolds, Nohman El Meigi, Craig Senenbach and Anthony, Senenbach. Dave Thomas and Tom Droege in the 200-yard shuttle relay. Junior girls: Mary Beth Place, Kathy Hardy, and Myr, am Stettler — 30 yard dash and softball throw for distance.

Among the winners in the intermediate group were Tony Biley, Bobby King, Terry Werner and Mario DeVincenti for the boys and Karen Kohl and Nadia El Meigi for the girls.

POLICE ARREST MAN

For Thieving He Deounces, Less than two days after he had told Borough Council that it had to do something about the drug users and pushers on Nassau Street ("I can get anything I want there") police arrested the same man and charged him with possession of marijuana.

In Mercer County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail is Harold Humes, 44, no known address. He faces a court appearance August 3. Humes was arrested Thursday morning at 3 by Patrolmen Victor Fasanello and Kerry King at the request of the University's security office, which wanted Humes charged with trespassing. He had reported by been staying on the grounds in front of Nassau Hall the previous two days.

In the process of arresting him, police allegedly discovered marijuana in Humes' possession.

ANN WELLS PURCHASE

By State. The New Jersey League of Historical Museums last Saturday voted unanimously to ask the state to buy the entire Weller tract for annexation to Princeton Battle field Park.

The action by the 80 state museums, that belong to the League, was taken at a meeting held in Clinton. The League will inform the state of its position by letter, and is encouraging its member museums to write individually.

The Weller tract, just off Mercer Road near Quaker Bridge Road, is owned at present by the Institute for Advanced Study. The Institute hopes to build faculty houses on the land. Last month, the state's Department of Environmental Protection announced that the state wanted to acquire the whole tract and add it to the Park.

Last week, however, it was revealed that Richard J. Bliven, commissioner of the environmental department, had been asked by the Institute to reconsider the state's decision.

In a new compromise plan worked out by the Institute and the Township Open Space Committee, the Institute would use four of the tract's 12 acres for six houses. The state might then purchase the rest.

MUSIC DIRECTOR NAMED

At Boychoir, Donald G. Hanson, founder and director of the St. Augustine Boy Choir of Toronto, has been appointed music director of the Columbus Boychoir School and conductor of the school's Concert Choir.

Mr. Hanson replaces Robert Halsey who has been associated with the Boychoir School for the past 12 years. The new director will be in charge of the school's music program.

BUSINESS In Princeton

LOOKING FOR A TREND In Quarterly Index. Analysts of the nation's economy are busying themselves at the latest economic indicators to decide whether the country appears ready to halt the long down ward trend.

Using Princeton as a guide, the answer would be hard to come by, the quarterly index of business in this area, compiled by TOWN TOPICS, doesn't give many clues.

Savings are up handsomely from last quarter, but checking accounts are down. Loans generally follow savings and moved up also. Compared to a year ago, all three indicators are up, as is almost always the case.

Construction figures in both Borough and Township show a steady line of pluses over the last quarter, but this is due to seasonal rather than economic factors. Less building is done in the three winter months that comprise the first quarter. The housing market on a national scale is still suffering from a shortage of funds.

New car sales also usually enjoy a fatter second quarter however there is a drop from the corresponding figure a year ago. It's not as sharp as it looks, the 1970 totals do not include sales by Cregar Motors, which now declines to release its figures.

Although the final total is not in yet, property transfers appear to be off significantly in the Township. Possibly the financial pinch has made some people postpone that move for a while.

Parking meter receipts showed their normal seasonal increase, but dropped a slight bit from a year ago. Telephones in service declined by around 250 from the previous quarter, but are up over a year ago.

EARNINGS SLIGHTLY UP At American Cyanamid. American Cyanamid Company today reported a two per cent increase in earnings for the first half of 1970 compared to the same period last year, a nine per cent increase in sales.

Clifford D. Sivers, president and chief executive officer, said earnings for the six month period this year were $49,621,000, $11.12 per share, against $48,572,000 or $11.01 a share a year ago. Worldwide six months' sales were $609,025,000 compared to $573,349,000.

Second quarter earnings this year were $23,551,000 or 53 cents per share, about the same as $23,523,000 or 53 cents per share in the same period of 1969. Second quarter sales were $310,321,000, eight per cent higher than $286,795,000 last year.

Mr. Sivers said that the sales rise for the first half of 1970 resulted primarily from increased sales of agricultural and consumer products in the United States, higher sales outside the United States, and a late 1969 fibers acquisition in combination, these more than offset some softening in other areas of Cyanamid's business.

Earnings for the first six months benefited from the higher volume, larger dividends from associated companies, and lower income taxes. Mr. Sivers said: "In large measure, however, these benefits were offset by lower profit margins, higher interest expense, and larger promotional expenses on new products."

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED

Ry Edmund Cook & Co. Ron Aldy A. Curran, formerly vice president of J. H. Martin Real Estate and Appraisal Co., has joined Edmund Cook & Co. Rentlors, as vice-president in the Appraisal Department. Mr. Curran's duties will include making appraisals for condemnations, estates, tax appeals, relocations, urban renewal, zoning variances, and feasibility studies, and providing consulting services on real estate investments.

An instructor at Rider College in the evening division, Mr. Curran joined the Martin firm in 1967 after doing appraisal work for the Local Property Tax Bureau, State of New Jersey. He also ran for Councilman at Large in the recent Trenton City election. He is secretary of Delaware Valley Chapter No. 36, Society of Real Estate Appraisers.

Established in 1893, the Cook firm also has a residential and commercial sales department and a Property Management Department, which manages most of the buildings on Nassau Street.

ENGINEER APPOINTED

To PAI Sales Staff, Princeton Applied Research Corporation has appointed William M. Fleisher to the position of applications engineer in the area of digital data systems.

Mr. Fleisher was formerly chief design engineer in the field of analytical instrumentation at Nestor-Faust Manufacturing Corporation. His primary field of interest in his new job will be the application of digital data techniques to analog instrumentation in pollution control, physics, engineering, chemistry, and the life sciences. Soon to move to Princeton, Mr. Fleisher has attended McCloy College, Penn State and Delaware Universities. The Fleishers currently live in Delaware.

News Of The CHURCHES

TUESDAYS AT SKILLMAN
With the Cottage Boys, it's a mixed group from Princeton that is spending Tuesday evenings this summer with a college full of 10 to 12 year-olds
at the New Jersey Training School for Boys in Skillman. Among cousin or more 40 - parents, teens, small children, even an infant.

They swim in and around the cottage at the school, embracing the troubled boys with a family-like warmth. Then card games develop and conversations in the corner. The group always brings along something good to eat.

"How much the boys enjoy the younger children who come with us," says Rev. Kenneth S.
Dannenbauer of Christ Congregation, Walnut Lane, reports.
"We haven't quite figured it out. Maybe they miss the younger children at home, or maybe it's because they can find a little more of somebody else, whatever the reason. We think the children have added
a wonderfully wholesome home quality to our visits."

The Tuesday evening get-together is a project of Mrs.
Geoffrey Sage, who for 20 years headed the American Red Cross chapter in Princeton and is now director of volunteers at the Training School.
There are several groups similar to the one from Christ Congregation taking part, each centering on a particular occupation, developing friendships with the boys.

Mrs. Sage asked the Christ Congregation members to sign up for Tuesdays from June 30 through August 25. The group includes new faces, some returners, and when a familiar face is absent, one of more boys will ask, looking around:
"Where's so and so?"

One evening, a boy who had learned he was to be released,
hurried to one of the members.
He'd talked to him at length to work before as soon as he arrived and just poured out his excitement.

"The major thing that's needed is personal contact,"
the Rev. Mr. Dannenbauer says. "There is some group moment that could be added, but it's not physical need that is pressing on these boys. There are some very, very sad stories."

The group from Christ Con-

REV. JOSEPH O. RAND of First Presbyterian Church will conduct the joint worship service at the Princeton Presbyterian churches
at 10 a.m. this Sunday in St.
Andrew's Church. His sermon
topic is "Call to Freedom."

gregation took along a high school student one Tuesday.
He'd almost backed out at the last minute, hot and tired from his job. "But he went, after all, and was impressed with the relationships he saw. He liked the boys he met. He felt that this is what the churches should be doing - helping the boys know that people care for them." Mr. Dannenbauer related.

There are about 16 boys in the cottage, all 10 to 12 years old. The visiting families play games with them and are about to embark on some craft projects. One family found interesting developing through its armload of books and comic books.

"The officer of the cottage is extremely helpful," Mr. Dan-nenbauer adds. "He seems to understand the role that volunteers can play. He's made some very helpful suggestions
to us."

Mrs. Sage had brought a group of boys to a luncheon at Christ Congregation last January. The children had been growing involvement ever since. In fact, some relationships have developed on the part of a senior at the engineering school at Princeton asked Mrs. Sage at the January luncheon about music at the Training School. She told him there was a need for someone to direct a chorus. "I never knew it," Mrs. Dannenbauer tells the story, "but from January through May that senior went on to the school twice a week and trained a boys' choral group."

Mrs. Sage, in her indefatigable way, has all sorts of groups interested in the New Jersey Training School for Boys. She and she's always interested in more. They give special parties, dress Christmas trees, teach crafts, and there is even
a group that bakes birthday
cakes, some 200 cakes a year,
and sends it to that cake delivered to the right boy in the right cottage on the right day.

There are meetings of volunteers with Mrs. Douglas Epps and Mrs. Pleasant Phax representing Christ Congregation
at the sessions.

The current push is to find volunteers who will act as teacher's aides for about two hours a week when the school year begins.

Another need is for families who will host a boy throughout the year. One of the Christ Congregation families picks up
"their boy" every Saturday morning, shares their day with him, and returns him to the school Saturday evening.

"This is more of the great things I hope Mrs. Sage has done!" Mr. Dannenbauer says fervently.

MUSIC IS TOPIC
At Unitarian Church, Clyde

Tipton, assistant professor of music at Rutgers University, will lead the informal service at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday in the Unitarian Church.

His discussion topic is "My Music." The service will be held in the small auditorium of the church open house for the last ten Mondays, greeting and listening for the hour between 7 and 8 p.m.

On Sunday, August 2, Thomas Hartmann, professor of urban studies at Rutgers College and a member of the Princeton Township Committee, will speak. His topic is "A Local Politician Gives His Views."

TOTAL TOPS $30,600
For 1976 scholarships, Princeton
Graduates of the Princeton
High School Class of 1970
have received more than $30,000 in total scholarship awards. With the addition of $500 from the Youth Emploment Service, the Princeton Committee for a graduating senior who has not yet finalized his high school plans, the total scholarships set at $31,151.50.
Excluding loans, $26,685 have been given in prizes. These figures exclude loan funds and amounts awarded to special schools and colleges, as well as the $500 to be awarded this summer by YES.

Approximately 70 different students were given financial aid, many of whom received multiple awards or scholarships. "We are especially pleased to note," related George Petrillo, Director of Guidance at Princeton High School, "that these awards have made it possible for some of our students to attend vocational schools and/or colleges otherwise would not have been able to attend for financial reasons."

"It seems more than appropriate," Mr. Petrillo continues, "that very special thanks should be given to the innumerable people and groups involved who have given hours
of service and money to the members of the Class of 1970.

LAKE FRONT SITTING

and well back from the road. Here is a charmer of a colonial. Built to last in mellow brick, the house was custom designed and custom built for its present owner — and not a penny spared in its construction. Such features as thermopane windows throughout and cast iron baseboard heat spell quality! But the house is one to love too. Imagine a gracious curving staircase, the luxury of three fireplaces, a dining room spacious enough to offset your most prized antiques, ceilings high enough for a grandfather clock. The living room is handsome, with a view of the lake, the study cozy and private and there are french doors from the dining room to a pretty terrace. Four bedrooms, three full and two half baths, a huge attic, and a bone dry basement. All plus one hundred and seventy feel of lake front with room for your own dock. Boating anyone?

A new listing and a very fine one indeed.

LAKE VIEW — LAKE DRIVE

A smaller house in the same excellent Riverside section. This too, offers four bedrooms, this time in the convenient split level arrangement. Truly a house for the active family — with its huge playroom and large fenced and filtered swimming pool. There is a fireplace in the living room, a total of two baths. At just $52,500, this is a BUY.

FOR YOUR BEST GAL.
OUR BEST BUY!

Reluctantly, we have given in to the owner, who wants a sale by September 1, and have reduced the price on his line house to the point where it beats anything else we have to offer for sheer value. If you know the Princeton real estate market, then you'll agree that nothing else in the $80,000's can compare with this architect-designed, custom built colonial on its two wooded acres in Princeton's Western Section. Large center hall, step-down living room with fireplace, paneled study with fireplace and adjoining lavatory, dining room, sunny family room opening to screened porch, fertile kitchen, mud room, children's lavatory, hobby room, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, master dressing room and laundry on second floor. Attic and basement. Two car garage. Couldn't possibly be reproduced for the price; if we needed a house we'd snap it up ourselves at $89,500

JUST PLAIN OLD-FASHIONED PRETTY

High grounds on an elegant Township street, sweeping lawns, an exterior of the most perfect shade of pale pink brick, an entrance hall floored in black and white marble, a beautifully proportioned living room with high ceiling, 3 exposures and a fireplace, a paneled study with bar and doors to the terrace, lovely dining room, great kitchen, and separate breakfast room, maid's room, bath and powder room on the ground floor. Upstairs: 5 bedrooms and 3 baths. Paneled play room, 3 car garage. Expensive, but marvelous.

COULD ONE OF THESE BE "THE LOT JUSTE"?

1 1/2 dogwood dotted acres just off the Cherry Valley Road in Hopewell Township for $19,500 or 1 1/2 wooded, gently sloping acres with all utilities at the eastern end of Princeton Township for $29,500 or a one-of-a-kind half acre with mature plantings and all utilities in the heart of the Western Borough for $39,500.

GIVE ME THE SIMPLE LIFE.

Woods to walk in (nearly 4½ acres), a rushing trout stream for fishing and peaceful countryside all around. What could be a more heavenly setting for a well planned, solidly built, low-keep one story house? 3 double bedrooms, large living-dining room with fireplace, super eat-in kitchen with fireplace, 2½ baths. Centrally air-conditioned. Including a sub-divisible extra lot, $64,500.

SO CLEAN, THEY SNAP:

A pair of sprightly Colonials, in friendly nearby neighborhoods. Each has living and dining room, paneled family room, eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, fireplace, basement and two car garage. One is air-conditioned, the other has lovely trees. Priced at $45,000 and $48,900 respectively.

A LITTLE PIEZZA:

is what sets this one story house apart from others in its price range. Long, low lines, high ceilings, lots of glass, interesting detail, and unexpected skylight — these are what its all about. Foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, family room opening to shaded terrace, modern kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Lovely, protected grounds just 2 minutes from Nassau Street. $44,000.

JUST A CHIP SHOT:

From the emerald fairways of the Bedens Brook Club stands one of the best new houses we've ever seen with 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths and all the living space you could possibly use including: Living room, study, family room and playroom all with fireplaces! Formal dining room, country kitchen, glass walled sun room, beautiful, wooded grounds. Many expensive extras. Stunning authentic Colonial design. Over $100,000.

6 BEDROOMS AND 3 BATHS:

make this attractively situated eastern Township house a real find for a large family. Its comfortably informal room arrangement consists of a 30' living-dining room with fireplace, well-equipped eat-in kitchen and big playroom. Laundry, storeroom, two car attached garage. Wooded 3.4 acre with brook. Priced at $66,000.

A WESTERN SECTION GARDEN APARTMENT?

Wouldn't that be wonderful? Unfortunately, there aren't any, but we do have a charming and most unusual one story house, which with its lovely and secluded garden amounts to nearly the same thing. Big, living-dining room with walls of glass overlooking terrace and shaded grounds. Corner kitchen. Two bedrooms and bath, plus study-guest room and bath in separate wing. $75,000.

YOUNG AND EAGER:

for a house of your own? Well, it's difficult for the first-house hunter to find what he can afford right in Princeton, so we think this 3 bedroom, 1½ bath house near Lawrenceville might be your answer. Living room, study and family room. Modern kitchen, screened porch. Garage. $31,900.

Question Of The Week

Question: In your opinion, should the tax deduction for children be eliminated as an incentive to hold down the population growth in this country?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Mrs. Joan Frank, New Brunswick, housewife: I think anything should be used. I think the danger of population growth is more dangerous than losing a little money. Neither is very pleasant but I'm very frightened about the whole prospect of too many people.

Jeremiah P. Ostrikor, Magdalen Apartments, professor, Princeton University: No, it shouldn't be eliminated because I think our country is under populated. Not in New Jersey but in the United States. It just came back from a trip across the country and the country's empty.

Mark DiCapua, Graduate College, graduate student in aerospace: No, the tax deduction should not be eliminated forthright; the tax deduction should be increased for the first two children and then should be strongly tapered as the number of children increases — and should disappear altogether after the fourth child.

Jean Sabier, Graduate College, graduate student, aerospace: No, I don't think so because the people who need the tax deduction most are not necessarily the people with a lot of children, but rather are those whose incomes are in that taxable range such as they would be hurt most by this modification in the tax structure.

Jean Hunt, Pennington, employee, Princeton University: No, that's cruel!

Chip Hall, 159 Terhune Road, mover and student at Hockessin School: No, I really don't think that is the solution. I think the tax should be deducted for children — I'm thinking mainly of the poor people living in slums because they need that deduction. As far as holding down the population, I think some solution through science is the best way, the minority and repressed people in this country need all the breaks they can get.

Leonard Lamm, 16 Vandewater Avenue, graduate student: No, I don't think it should be eliminated. Despite all the talk about population explosion I don't think it is so acute in this country as to justify the government applying this kind of incentive into peoples' private lives. Maybe in other countries where the problem is more severe but not here.

Mrs. Ingrid Pope, Trenton, employee, Princeton Information Technology, 42 Nassau No. 1, I think it should be a family's right to receive a tax deduction because children cost money and they need to be educated. I really wouldn't be in favor. If they take this way, it will increase the number of welfare cases in the country, and we have too many right now. The average family only makes between five and six thousand a year.

Dennis Mattiles, Washington Road, employee, RCA Labs: Yes, in fact I think parents should be charged for each child they have. The tax structure is in trouble unless it pays its own way. The philosophy of taxes is to receive some basic good in return for it. For example, a postage stamp should carry the cost of delivering a letter, in the same way a tax on children should carry the benefits they receive. Each child costs the government something. The first costs as much as the last. They're not cheaper by the dozen.

Lacie Farnwall, 210 Mercer Street, housewife: I agree there are too many people in the world but I don't think the government should tell us to have more or less. I think the people should get smart by themselves and stop having so many children.

Clarence Clark, student at Westminster Choir College: I can see good and bad in it. I think it would be infringing on peoples' rights to have children, but at the same time I do think too many couples have children for tax deductions. There wouldn't be as many reluctant problems as we have today.

Klaus Heiss, 28 Wilton, economist: Yes, I think they should abolish the tax deduction and put a penalty on people who have too many children since it contributes only to over crowding and social problems and it is in present discrimination against bachelors. The whole tax structure in this country discriminates against bachelors.

IN "PATIENCE": Modern dress will be worn by the cast of "Patience," the Gilbert and Sullivan opera that will open this weekend at Washington Crossing's Open Air Theatre. In this rehearsal scene, Mary Meyers as Patience, gestures forcefully while she sings a Sullivan air. That's Richard Bussman as Bunthorne.

News Of The THEATRES

"PATIENCE"
In Modern Dress. The hip-pies of the late Victorian era, satirized mischievously by Gilbert and Sullivan, will appear against an appropriate background of art nouveau and the works of Aubrey Beardsley in the production of "Patience" scheduled for this weekend at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing, N.J. "Patience" will open at 8:30 p.m. this Friday. It will play again this Saturday at the same hour and on Friday and Saturday, July 21 and August 1.

This is the first of two Stage Two offerings at the theatre. Herb Shapiro is directing. Mr. Shapiro is currently representing off Broadway by the award winning musical, "The Me No Body Knows," for which he did the adaptation and additional lyrics.

In "Patience," the title role will be sung by Mary Meyers, young Metropolitan Opera scholarship winner who appears regularly with the Amata Opera Showcase in New York. Her roles there have been in "The Magic Flute," "Die Fledermaus," "Don Giovanni" and "The Marriage of Figaro." She has sung in the Trenton "Theatre in the Park" and with the Mercer Symphony and Trenton Pops Orchestras.

The part of Bunthorne in "Patience" will be sung by Richard Bussman, who appeared last year in "The Fantasticks" and "Trial by Jury" at the New Jersey Museum Cultural Center.

Richard Jachetti who will sing Grosvenor, also appeared in "Trial by Jury" and "The Fantasticks." Supporting roles will be sang by Shirley and Herman Smith, who are both graduates of Westminster Choir College; Christa Rodans, singer with the Little Oratorio Society and Diane Gribbin of the Boston Conservatory of Music. Vivian Argilan, Joseph Teti and Mark Syers will also sing supporting parts.

The Gilbert and Sullivan chorus of "rapturous maidens" will consist of Janet Hasty.

Funds for Arts Festival

McCarte Theatre has received a $5,000 matching grant for the Teenage Creative Arts Festival, planned for Spring, 1971, which it will sponsor with the New Jersey Department of Education.

The festival will offer
young persons, aged 13-19,
who reside or attend school
in the state, an opportunity to exhibit their creative talents in a variety of artistic areas at McCartney and the State Museum in Trenton.

The grant was the largest of six totalling $13,900, awarded by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts
from state and matching federal funds.

a.m. weekdays.

The director of "The Homecoming" is Sally Brown, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. Miss Brown has played leading roles in such television series as "Aired Hitencock Presents," "Playhouse 90," "Slattery's People" and
"Ben Casey."

Her film credits include
"The Children's Hour" and
"Sturm Center." On the stage,
she played opposite Basil
Rathbone in "The Heiress."

In the Intime production of "The Homecoming," the role of Max will be taken by Wiliam Hookins. Audiences have seen him this summer as Old Malon in "The Playboy" and in "The Eccentricities of a Nightingale," in which he portrayed the Rev. Winemiller.

Lenny will be Daniel Berkowitz, who directed "Eccentricities" this summer, and
"A Man for All Seasons,"
"The Happy Time" and "An Irish Faustus" for the wintertime Theatre Intime.

Other actors in "The Homecoming" will be Mark Capri (Teddy), Alice White (Ruth,
the wife) and John Vennema (Sam).

Mr. Vennema is scheduled for a season in London this fall
he will attend the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

Mr. Berkowitz will attend
the dramatic art graduate school at the University of California, Berkeley and Mr.
Hookins will travel to London to study at the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art.

"FREAKS"

Controversial Film Here. A 1932 film about a group of circus freaks, grotesque, controversial and for many years not available to theatres, will be shown next Tuesday at 4 p.m. in McCormick Art Blue
as part of Summer Intime's Film Festival.

"Freaks," produced and directed by Tod Browning who did the original "Dracula," concerns a group of circus freaks, one of whom has just inherited a large fortune.

One of the normal girls in the circus decides to marry him for his money. She treats him with such contempt and

cray that she other freaks become angry and at the end of the film, they mutilate her so that she, too, becomes a freak.

What makes the film controversial is that Browning,
the director, used real circus
freaks, without sparing sensitivities. One film critic has commented, "such a film
could never be made today."

The preceding night — next Monday, July 27 — Intime
will show the comedy classic
"The Mouse That Roared."
This is the 1959 film about a small country that decides to declare war on the United States, deliberately lose and PENNTOWN, an attractive shopping village with the look of yesterday, has opened on Route 31, just north of Pennington. Above is a portion of the village, viewed through the trees.

IT'S NEW
To Us

PENNTOWN RETURNS
 To The New Jersey Map. In late colonial days, Pennington was known as "Queen town," and later, for a while, it was "Penntown."

The old name, Penntown, has been revived for the new, colonial style shopping village located on 18 shady acres a long Route 31, just three miles north of Pennington.

Penntown is set among the trees, well back from the road, with a flagstone path meandering pleasantly from shop to shop. The buildings are patterned after an old New Jersey village, with the modern touch of air conditioning. A rooster crows in the barnyard across the road, adding to the rural feeling.

The Stage Depot motel and restaurant are part of the place, offering good food, a night's lodging and a swim in the pool. In fact, as owner George Bricker says at a thought a shopping village would go with the area, with the motel, I am thinking right now of putting in a tennis court out back.

The attractive village was designed by George Pearson of Lawrenceville, and the Princeton really firm of George Cook serves as managers.

Women on the prowl through the shops will find dresses, shoes and accessories, toys for the kids, candies and aniques. Penntown is open daily from 11 to 6; 11 to 7 on Fridays and from 1 to 6 on Saturdays.

This Saturday, Penntown will have an art and craft show that will be worth seeing. The rain date is Sunday. Wandering along the flagstone path, you first come to Princeton Bank & Trust's green clapboard branch office, open the usual 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, plus Friday evenings from 5 to 7.

Next is one of the few homemade candy places in this area: Carl Fischer Cakes Inc., founded in 1930 on Bond Street in Trenton. Mrs. Helen Goodwin presides over the Penntown branch, a nift when you enter the candy shop you'll swoon a little if you're a candyphile. Chocolate and vanilla butter creams are the Fischer best seller. Close on their heels is "peanut butter pudding." A recipe developed by Edward Laurendeau, Carl Fischer's nephew who now owns the business, "He sort of grew up at his uncle's heels," Mrs. Goodwin says.

You'll also see Mr. Laurendeau's peanut brittle, neatly cut in squares. He roasts the peanuts and uses fresh creamery butter Mrs. Goodwin's favorites — she has a sweet tooth too — are the cashews and chocolate "turtles" and the almond clusters. There are many types of chocolates in the cases, 70 varieties in all, and many velous fruit filled hard candies in the long rows of square sided jars behind the counter. Most amusing of these imports are the tiny cluster apples from France, and the liquid center raspberry candies from France. In small bags are tiny red and black raspberries imported from West Germany. You can smell the flavor right through the wrapping.

Only the hard candies are imported. The chocolates are made by hand in a little building in Trenton where a couple of elderly women work the chocolate back and forth on marble slabs. The little flick of their tool as they finish makes the identifying mark for each variety. The Fischer firm is proud that no preservatives are used. The candy is always fresh made.

Marty Rhesam's "Happy Hours Shop" is practically next door, with petunias and geraniums growing all about. Inside, an interesting arrangement of very lovely artificial flowers, and fresh flowers in a florist's case (we saw huge daisies, peppermint striped carnations and rosebuds), and — over in a special section — a great selection of toys, kits and games. The shop has craft kits for young and old, games for small fry to play, quaint little dolls and sturdy model cars by Corgi.

Happy Hours is an outlet for the intriguing Creative Playthings' toys and games, each labeled according to the age group that will enjoy it most. These are practical, well-researched and hard wearing.

And for grandmother to buy for the newest member of the family, oval, hand-painted designs with a matching mug. Made by Sling; $5 the set.

At the Pam-El Shop, owner Anthony Inella has very nice handmade bags, belts and things in line. The John DiPasquale is represented by custom made sandals ($18) soft, floppy, sea leather hats, wide, tooted belts, hair ornaments and wrist bands. His signature is a highly individual tooted look.

Rachel Maren contributes a wide range of bags, a little ones to clutch in your palm, or richly fringed over the shoulder types. Her leathers are deep, wonderful browns.

And if you'd like to see the type of bag Jackie O. (Mansfield) held when she swayed the photographer, Pam-El has it. A Greta original in gray suede with a long gold chain shoulder strap. The Greta bags are very expensive — $72 for a beautiful white purse of rich leather, for instance, and simply, elegantly designed.

Sharon McDaniel who manages Pam-El, showed us shoulder bags imported from Spain and black suede, some of them, or in soft pink and ivory, and similar variety, some alternating fur and leather squares ($7).

designed by Burnel: hand made bracelets and earrings from Robert Zentall, who also has designed an unusual pony tail holder made of a shining round gold disk on a flexible, leather-covered band.

"We try to get what isn't usually available in a shopping center," is the way Miss McDonald sums the Pam-El Shop.

The Heidi Shop, owned by Heidi Erickson, was in the throes of getting ready for Monday's opening when we dropped in last week. It adds a dress shop to the Penny-town roster. Open for browsing by now, Heidi carries dresses, sportswear and a buffet luncheon. You'll find wigs there, too, made of synthetic or real hair, as you prefer.

Tommy's Shoe Shop was getting ready for a Monday opening too. Tom Falanga, formerly of Lavintal's, will have a complete line of regular and orthopedic shoes.

Papourri, filled with gift items and a truly remarkable collection of imported candles. Some are unbelievably lovely. Papourri also has light sat- lery, and cast iron reproduc- tions ranging from trivets to polished stoves. We carry unusual muffin pans in cast iron composed of six heart-shaped cups and a central star-shaped cup. You can order them painted or unpainted. ($5.95)

Antiques in The Parrot Cove, owned by Georgia Clark and Luella Wheeling, are supple- mented by a host of items. The shop moved to Pennington just recently from Hopewell. We have drifted around, we found a pewter serving dish with a handled cover ($12.50); a small wooden chest with the initials "JK" in metal on the lid, and cutglass goblets in buckie and honeyscomb pat-

A schoolroom desk, a Vic- torian sofa, lovely old platters and spool chairs caught our eye. There was even a funny gurdy ($250 — or $25 a day if you'd like to rent it) And much, much more.

"MISSIES" WEAR "JUNIORS"

When They Want To. Lan- dau's on Nassau Street has just put in an attractive new line of dresses in the junior and junior petite sizes — and Robert Landau is going all out to make women understand what "junior" really means. "A customer who wears a 12 in a misses size, can wear a 13 in the juniors," he says. "The misconception is that a lot of people have is that they can't wear a junior."

"We have set out to appeal to the people who are small, to the young mother, the working girl and the high school girl. These are not teenie bop-looking dresses," he said as he looked into another from the racks. "The concept is a better dress in a better cut."

In some cases, our juniors are more youthful than the dresses in the misses sizes. Most of them, however, are the type of well designed dress that can go almost anywhere, —other dressed up, or dressed down."

Landau's new juniors are in the price range of $12 to $31. We liked a double-knit orlon in green bearing the Charlie's Girls label. Small buttons from the scrup neck to the hem provided the only trim.

We noticed an attractive rust colour accented with gold buttons down the fly front and on the three-quarter length sleeves. Around the skirts, a nice draw-string model with front buttons — a relief from the A-line. There are Aztec weaves used horizontally in skirts, slacks and jumpers and some very attractive glen plaid pants.

So, when you go to Robert's now famous rummage sale this weekend, check in on the new juniors, too.

FOLK CONCERT RETURNS
For Concert in New Hope. For the fourth in the summer concert series set by Trinity Productions, folk guitarist Lou da Cohen will be returning at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Ney Musicum in New Hope.

In response to the enthusiasm at her June appearance, Miss Cohen will again play her folk tunes, this time performing with W. W. Megaw, formerly of "The Road Apples", and Peter Shaw, folk singer and guitarist.

Tickets are $2.50 and will be available at various New Hope shops, at the door on the night of the show, or by mail: Trip Tech, 136 South Main Street, New Hope, Pa. 18938.

"M*A*S*H" (now playing). If the Marx Brothers were still around, dressed in white surgical uniforms, and set near the front in Korea during the war, they would have probably turned out something like M*A*S*H. Donald Sutherland, Elliott Gould and Tom Skerritt all make fine counter parts of the Marxes.

This is the anti-establishment movie taken to the outer extremes of black comedy. With nothing sacred, not surgery, chastity, womanhood, religion, Army discipline, the sanctity of marriage, war movies, or even football. Nor are Eisenhower, MacArthur and Leonardo da Vinci exempted. All these and more take a surgical barrage that will warm the hearts of nuclear hawks.

The inhibited heroes of M*A*S*H (which means, Mobil Army Surgical Hospital) are a trio of army surgeons who make their own rules. Their misadventures with friends and enemies, both male and female, take place mostly in Korea with a trip to Tokyo for an urgent operation on a senator's son and a quick game of golf.

agement of the characters in a parody of "The Last Supper."

GARDEN and BRUNSWICK
Z (now playing) is a French made melodrama about a political assassination that took place in Greece in 1963. It has an astonishing number of parallels to events in present-day U.S.A. It also sends the senses to tingling after the fashion of the best movie thrillers.

A professor of medicine at the University of Athens, Gregorios Lambrakis, is the leader of a pacifist movement. Struck down by a truck as he leaves the hall where he has made a speech, his death is officially called "an accident" by the anxious government.

In a fascinating documentary style, "Z" reveals the means by which the truth is uncovered, largely through the efforts of a journalist photographer and a dedicated magistrate. The trail is followed with all the excitement of an top notch whodunit.

Five Stars and appears as The Deputy, Irene Papas as Helene, with Jean-Louis Trintignant, Charles Denner, Renato Salvatori and others, all top actors — in the cast. Costas Gavras is director and co-writer of the film, serial with Jorge Semprun. Mikis Theodorakis supplies a musical score that throbs with tension.

NO. 3 PERFECT 6-0
Eagles, Post 76 at 51. After the final out in the eighth game played last week in the 912 year-old history of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association, Engine No. 3 had won two more games to keep its record unblemished, 6-0. Eagles, another double winner, and Post 76 were a game behind, tied for second.

No. 3 defeated Italian American Sportsmen Club, 10-8. Bob McHugh getting the win, and then slammed the door on the Elks, 12-0. Winning pitcher Mike Boonin hit two triples and Mike Barren homered in the rout. Andy Noll took the loss.

The Eagles kept pace with a pair of one-run victories—2-0 over Post 76, and 4-3 over Elks. In the latter, Dana Nini struck out nine and was hooked for only three hits by Noll the losing pitcher again. Home Brooks and Tony Opperman, Nini received support at the plate from Mike Barry, John Silverman and Jim McCarthy.

Against Post 76, the Eagles Joe Hermann bested Steve O'Neill on the mound. Jim Lennon hit a home run for tie losers.

Post 76 gained a split when it banged out 13 hits to defeat Roma Eterna, 5-4. Paul Soderman got the win as he, Scott Thompson and Mark Taylor excelled at the plate.

Roma Eterna then sunk a little deeper in the cellar when it dropped a 4-0 decision to Hook & Ladder. El Meligi was too much for the losers; he struck out 11 and John Bocanismo was tagged with the loss.

Engine No. 1 divided its two starts, topping Hook & Ladder 8-1, and losing, 12-4 to IASC. Tom Moore yielded two hits (Dan Aronovic and Nohman El Meligi) and struck out eight to lead No. 1 over Hook & Ladder. Teammates Jim LaPlaca and Don Turgeon had two hits each.

Losing pitcher Tommy Thomas and his reliever, Aronovic, struck out eight for Hook & Ladder.

Against IASC, No. 1 ran into the strikeout pitching of Jeff Petrone. Petrone fanned 15 and gave up only two hits, one to his mound rival Jim LaPlaca, who struck out nine, and one to Mike Nosal. Mario Mangone, Gary Collicio and Bruno Perna hit safely for IASC.

TRENTON WOMAN WINS

In Ladies' Singles Division. Out of 57 entries Carla Gaiser, of Trenton emerged victor in the YMCA Community Ladies Singles Championships.

Neshammy's Peggy Beckelman was runner-up. Mrs. Gaiser won her matches 6-2, and 6-2. In the consolation tournament Enid Woodward won over Peggy Thomas, 8-6, 1-6, and 6-3.

The Summer Tournament

schedule lists the Men's Singles which began this Monday, the Men's Doubles set for next Monday, and the Mixed Doubles which will start Monday, August 5.

Mrs. Linda Corletti and Mrs. Julie White are directing the Ladies' Tournaments, and Dr. John Bauman is in charge of the Men's competition. Entries to any of the tournaments may be made by each Friday before the tournament begins, at either the Pandora at the University Courts or at the YMCA Office.

MCGRAW-HILL VICTOR

Over Cities Service. In a matchup that might occur again later in the season with the league championship at stake, McGraw-Hill captured a 9-7 decision from Cities Service in the second round of inter-division play last week in the Business Softball League. Although it lost the game between the top two teams, the western division won the next three contests on the ladder.

The win put McGraw-Hill three games ahead of second place FMC, which lost to NCA, and made a first place finish a virtual certainty. Meanwhile, Cities Service fell back to a tie with NCA in the west, and RCA, A by defeating Accelerator, moved to within a half game, and pulled even in the all-important loss column.

RCA needed a six-run sixth inning that brought it from behind to win the game. Walley Reubert relieved Ed Krieger in the fifth inning to halt an Accelerator rally, and hold the losers over the last two innings. He also had three hits, including a four-bagger, to join Al Salkin and Bob Krieger, each with three hits, in leading the RCA attack.

ETS squared its record at 6-6, with a 9-8 triumph over Hopewell T.V. Held to only one hit into the fourth inning, the winners broke loose for all their runs on seven hits, one walk and four Hopewell errors. That proved to be enough, as Hopewell could manage only eight tallies over seven innings. Bruce Sawatz had three hits and Jim Jackson and Rick Ferris had doubles for the winners. Losing pitcher Joe Casara pitched superb ball in all but one inning, but it cost him the game.

In other games, Cynamid led by Fitch, 5-4, with Eric Ellison and Herb Layton leading the way with two hits apiece. RCA Astro shipped ERIC 7-3, to keep its hopes alive for a shot at first place. Since the rash has been beating teams than the west, because of drop-outs, RCA B and Shearer-Trey played each other with RCA B winning a slugfest, 21-13.

23 GAMES LISTED

For Tiger Hockey Team, bolstered by a crop of line sophomores, who compiled an above average record as freshmen, Princeton University's varsity hockey team will play 23 contests during the 1970-71 season, aiming to improve its 5.17 mark and a fifth place Ivy League finish.

Included on the schedule is a trip to the midwest over Christmas Vacation to participate in the St. Louis Invitational Tournament on December 26 and 28. Coach Bill Quackenbush's Tigers will join defending champion Wisconsin, host St. Louis University and Boston College in the two-day tourney at the St. Louis Arena.

The Orange and Black, captained by Tom Mac Millan, will play 11 home games, with Boston College, RPI, Clarkson and St. Lawrence scheduled to visit Baker Park along with six Ivy League rivals.

The schedule:
Dec. 3, St. Lawrence; 5, Boston College; 9, Army at West Point; 12, R.P.I.; 16,

Brown at Providence; 18, Bryce Chase all had two hits Northeastern at Boston; Dec. 26, 28, St. Louis Invitational Tournament.

Jan. 2, Clarkson; 4, Boston University at Boston; 9, Dartmouth at Hanter; 11, Colgate at Hamilton; 23, Providence; 30, Cornell.
Feb. 3, Dartmouth; 6, Harvard at Cambridge; 10, Pennsylvania; 13, Yale; 17, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; 20, Yale at New Haven; 24, Harvard; 27, Cornell at Thibea; Mar. 6, Dartmouth.

CONTE'S TIES TEAGUE

For Adult Softball League, Teague & Hinds discovered last week that everyone likes to beat the frontrunner. Two teams did as a result. Teague and Hinds tied with Conte's Bar, one of its tormentors, for the lead in the Princeton Adult Softball League. Each has won nine of the last three.

The key contest was Conte's 5-1 victory. Harter Dick Power limited the strong hitting T&H lineup to six hits, three by Steve McLane, Wes Cawley and Jim Quinn combined for four hits and three runs for Conte's which was all the victor's needed.

Earlier, Conte's relied on a sticky defense to shutout the overhyped Harrison Athletic Club, 2-0. Twice H&A had men on first and third with one out, but was unable to score. Frank Cawley led Conte's at the plate with two hits.

Varsity Sport Shop climbed into second place by subbing H&A and the Outlaws into submission, outscoring its victims 31 to 9 runs in the process.

A 12 run sixth inning killed off any chance for H&A which knocked out 15 hits but was guilty of defensive lapses. Jim Pirone led Varsity with three hits as every man in the lineup scored to make it an 18-7 final.

Earlier, Varsity turned to the home run to record an impressive 13-2 win over the Outlaws. Pirone, Laidon Ross and Jerry Perpetua hit back-to-back home runs, and Perpetua also hit another in the second inning to give him two for the night.

Ivy Inn took over sole possession of third place by splitting its two games.

Its win was a 10-5 upset of Teague & Hinds. A six run second inning, highlighted by Russ Perone's three-run homer, was the dramatic frame for Teague. Tony Pirone, Jim Case, John Fitzpatrick, John Cawley and Jerry Tamasi all had two hits each for Ivy.

Pirone and Tamasi scoring five runs between them. At Terry clouted a pair of home runs and a double in his three appearances at the plate to give him a perfect 3-for-3 and Cap Crossland added another four bagger for Teague, but it wasn't enough to offset the rash of Ivy hits.

Later, Ivy was involved in a 10-5 game with Nassau Con over Motors only this time it was on the short end. Mike Desmond batted four hits and scored four runs to pace Nassau. Bruce Sandvik and Bryce Chase all had two hits for the winners. The Standings.

PRITCHARD, ROSS WIN
In Beginners Tennis, Susan Pritchard and Billie Ross were winners in the beginners division of a tennis round robin held last week at the Be den Brook Club.
John Weiss and Tom Feruson captured the laurels for intermediates, while City Carothers and Bull Burdfield won in the advanced class.

BLUE UNSTOPPABLE

In Summer Lacrosse, Blue continues to run roughshod over the opposition in the four-team Princeton Summer Lacrosse League.

In recent games, Blue defeated Red, 14-6, and routed rather suuk - Navy, 22-3. Mike Skinner with four goals and five assists and Bob Reish, four goals, one assist, were the top scorers in the game with Red.

Jim Kopplin accounted for half of the losers' six goals in the rout of Navy. Skinner scored seven goals. Reish three and Coley Donaldson two. Donaldson and Skinner also had three assists apiece. Green wins its two games.

Are you losing money on your savings?

There was a time when it didn't seem to matter, when there wasn't much of a difference in savings rates, when you just walked into a bank and opened a savings account without asking what the interest rate was.

Times have changed. In the last few years savings rates have moved up dramatically, and now there are significant differences from one financial institution to another, which leads to the question: How do your savings rate? Are you sure that your savings are earning the highest rates available? It's worth checking into.

At Princeton Savings you can rest assured that your savings will earn the highest rates in the United States. Compare them with any and all others and you'll find there are none higher. Regular Savings Accounts, for example, earn the top rate of 5% a year. Savings Certificates also earn the highest rates in this category of accounts... up to 6% a year depending on the amount and the maturity.

Come in soon. Our savings counselors will be happy to help, and remember, where you save does make a difference!

PLAY TO BEGIN MONDAY In District Tennis Tournaments, no later than 12:15 promptly.

As the clinic will last until classes begin again at 7:30, bring a picnic lunch. An indoor place will be arranged in case of rain. Adults who are interested in being trained as umpires are also welcome to attend. For an event such as the 12 and 14 tournament next week, much supervision is needed. The Community Program considers this a learning opportunity for many of the young players entering a tournament for the first time.

Thus, the older juniors are being enlisted to help call lines and score in order to make the event as beneficial as possible for all entries. For further information, contact Mr. Conroy or Mrs. Kraft or any of the instructors at the courts.

PBA WINS PAIR

In PYBA Senior Division, Patrolmen's Benevolent Association won two games last week in the senior division of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association to even its record at 3-3.

PBA combined a 13-strikeout performance by Dave Harwood and a home run by Chris Grazel last week to defeat Thorne's, 4-1. Losing pitcher, Greg Kline homered for one of three hits by the losers. He fanned 11.

Earlier, PBA scored eight runs on only five hits to stop Princeton Bank, 8-5. John Mooney was the winning pitcher, John Videbeck the loser.

Thorne's edged N. Y. Life, 6-5, as Bob Speagle limited the losers to three hits. Thorne's touched George Reynolds for seven. Reynolds struck out six. Speagle five.

A decision on a protest game between Princeton Bank and N. Y. Life will be made this week.

Movement for a New Congress Expects to Play Key Role in November Congressional Elections

Armed with the results of a recent poll taken after its efforts in a single primary election and successes elsewhere, the Movement for a New Congress (MNC) has predicted that its student workers can produce a two-to-six percentage point gain for the candidate they support, and as much as eight to 10 points with careful canvassing in a well-conducted campaign.

Spurred by President Nixon's April 30 announcement of United States involvement in Cambodia, the Princeton-based organization is dedicated to reversing American war policy through the election of peace candidates in the November Congressional elections.

The campus-based movement, which hopes to mobilize massive grass-roots volunteer efforts, will concentrate this fall on between 50 and 70 anti-war candidates, involved in close races with backers of the Nixon administration. MNC will not be come involved in races where there seems to be little chance of success or where a suitable candidate seems assured of victory.

Its plans and hopes have been sharpened by the poll taken in New Jersey's 15th Congressional District (Middlesex County), where student volunteers from MNC campaigned for insurgent Democratic primary candidate Lewis Kaden.

Kaden Vote Encouraging. Mr. Kaden, a 27-year-old lawyer previously unknown in the district, received 34 percent of the vote against Congressman Edward Patten, a popular incumbent with an excellent record for providing services to his constituents. While Mr. Kaden fell short of his upset, his total vote was about 50 per cent greater than any previous liberal insurgent had received.

ed in the district, according to MNC.

Moreover, MNC comments, Mr. Patten felt it necessary to modify rather sharply his position on Vietnam during the campaign, moving clearly from his initial position in support of the President toward a withdrawal position closer to Mr. Kaden's.

Experience gained in the Kaden campaign should prove valuable to the organization in the fall. The poll showed that student canvassing did not pay off in districts that were already strongly in favor of either candidate, hence the decision to concentrate on marginal districts in the fall.

In areas where Mr. Kaden had strong support, unless student canvassing by students served only to draw Patten voters, who were not otherwise contacted, to the polls. In marginal towns, a majority of those contacted by students voted for Mr. Kaden while a majority of those not contacted voted for Mr. Patten.

No "Backlash." One of the best indications of the poll was the almost total lack of a "backlash" vote against the student-supported candidate. By a margin of almost 6 to 1, voters endorsed the idea of students participating in Congressional campaigns. Less than one percent of the sample said it would vote against a candidate because he is supported by students.

Those agreeing with student involvement in politics commented that students had a right to express their opinions; it was good for students to be involved; or it was a preferable alternative to other (destructive) means of expression. The majority of those opposed said students should stick to school work instead. Others said students riot and destroy things, or felt that college students are immature and stupid.

The telephone poll of 2,834 persons was developed, supervised and analyzed with help from Mike Rappaport, Jay Katz and Sue Gunzelman of Opinion Research Corporation. The questionnaire for the telephone poll was constructed by Herb Ahelson and Len Newton of Response Analysis Corporation.

MNC admits that the Kaden campaign is an imperfect indicator of the potential impact student volunteers may have on the 1970 Congressional elections, because it was a primary campaign and these are notoriously difficult for non-incumbents. Also, the New Congress volunteers entered the campaign late, and the Kaden organization was not prepared to utilize effectively the students who inundated its headquarters.

However, the organization adds, the poll is supported by results from other primaries where New Congress won several victories, backing candidates such as Mrs. Bella Abzug, who upset long-time incumbent Leo F. Ford in New York's 19th Congressional district.

Toward the Fall. Looking ahead to fall, when its real test will come, the Movement for a New Congress is spending time this summer on voter registration drives, organizing and planning and deciding in which Congressional races to use its growing manpower.

The national headquarters, located on the Princeton campus at 136 Palmer Hall, has about 20 full-time summer workers operating under coordinators Henry Buene, associate professor of politics at the University, and William Murphy, a graduate student in politics at Princeton. That number should increase in September.

It strongly supports the idea, adopted first at Princeton University, of giving students a two-week break in late October, to enable them to work full time for candidates. As of early July, 18 other colleges had adopted a similar calendar adjustment, and it was considered highly probable that at least a dozen additional colleges would also use the plan, with more considering it or some alternative.

MNC counts between 10,000 and 15,000 names on its national volunteer lists, with more on regional and local lists. This leads the organization to make the calculation that if 100,000 students each see 50 people a day during the two weeks before the election, five million people a day will be contacted.

In a final confident note, it reports that indications are MNC will have a significant effect on election outcomes, and that students will have substantial say about who sits in the 92nd Congress.

POLICY EXPLAINED

In Pool Closings. Any time the manager of the Community Park swimming pool complex issues a decision to close the pool, it is not a matter of "if" but "when" it may be his discretion in making his pools.

In making the announcement, explained by a letter in last week's issue of TOWN TOPICS, Donald Barr, executive director of the Princeton Recreation Department stated that possible dangers which must be taken in consideration are thunder showers in which lightning may be seen, driving rain which reduces visibility, the wind and rain which produce temperatures undratable for swimming.

In most instances the pool will remain open long enough for the manager to make an intelligent decision. Mr. Barr said. He suggested that those interested in coming to the pool in bad weather first call the pool office at 821-2990 to check on existing conditions. If the line is busy, please call again to be continued.

To reopen a pool, a minimum of 30 minutes is needed to contact staff members and to reorganize the daily admissions office.

Latest figures on income from the pools in 1976 is $42,368 from a total of 4,614 persons and $2,068 in daily admissions fees. The number of financial assistance scholarships awarded is 158 — up from the previous year.

Tennis income so far is $6,323 based on 1,235 permits, it said. Also, $197 has been received from daily fees.

WADING BEES CHANGE

In Experiment at Pool. The Princeton Recreation Department has revised the former wading pool policies for the Community Park pool complex. For a trial period it will no longer be required for the guardian or parent of a youngster to have a permit in order to bring a child to wade from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The child, however, must have a card.

This policy will be in effect only when the main pool is closed to the public; when the pool is open, all persons entering must pay admission regardless of whether they plan to swim or not.

BIRTHS

Twenty born. Eight girls and 12 boys were born last week

YMCA LISTS OPENINGS

For Mid-Summer Program. The YMCA is conducting a special mid-summer program of weightlifting instruction with a recreational swim afterwards all boys involved with high school sports.

The program will be running every Monday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. All boys interested in joining should call the Princeton YMCA at 924-4825 or see the Youth Director, Peter Adreotti. Registration will be open anytime during the next two weeks. There is no fee for this program, only YMCA membership is required.

The YMCA also has a few openings in other mid-summer programs. The five-year-old swim instruction every Tuesday and Friday from 9:40 a.m. to 10:25 a.m., has three openings.

Boys tennis classes Tuesday and Thursday afternoon has a few openings, and so does the co-ed trampolining class Monday and Thursday morning at 10:25. Diving instruction for third through 12th grades has places for a four-week program for beginner through advanced diving.

JAYCEES HEAR PLANS

On Low Cost Housing. At the Princeton Jaycees' June meeting, Ted Vial of the Princeton Community Housing program spoke on the shortage of low cost housing in Princeton.

Mr. Vial explained that PCH, composed of civic organizations, churches, and major educational institutions in Princeton is working toward providing low and middle income housing in Princeton Borough and Princeton Township. Such housing, Mr. Vial also included, is badly needed for many persons working at essential occupations in Princeton and who are forced to live outside the Princeton area.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of 86 businesses in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

Also at the meeting, it was announced that John Hartmann has been named "Jaycee of the Month" for his efforts in coordinating the Wild West Circus held in June.

GENERAL MEETING SET

For Republican Club. Monday, The Republican Club of West Windsor is planning a general meeting for 8 p.m. Monday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald R. Rogers, Clarksville Road, Grovers Mill Club, president for 1976-77. Ronald R. Black will preside along with officers: Harold Sheets, first vice-president; William Roal, second vice-president; Frank U. Rogers Jr., treasurer; Mr. Eugene McDermott, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Roberta Burden, recording secretary.

The Club is planning a bake sale for this Saturday at the Acme Market, Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction. Members and friends wishing to donate baked goods are asked to contact Mrs. Ronald R. Black, Village Road East, Hightstown.

MISS BURKE ENDORSED

By Business Women's Club. The executive board of the Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club has unanimously endorsed the appointment of Miss Florence M. Burke to the principalship of Princeton High School.

The action of the School Board was cited as a noteworthy recognition of not only Miss Burke's past performance, but also as evidence of advancement of women in the teaching profession.

WOOD YOU BELIEVE!
Maybe we didn't spell it right, but we sure made it right. And right smack where it belongs — in the woods. This fantastic contemporary simply defies description. Strictly one of a kind, and incomparable from the word go. Zigzag roof lines, exposed beamed ceilings, thermopane glass walls — the works. And functional as can be, with a large living room and marble fireplace faced with brick travertine, dining room, very special and spacious kitchen, 1 bedrooms, 3 baths, study, game room, basement, 2 car garage. With all sorts of special features, such as cork floors, built-in-bar, self cleaning oven, outside redwood deck — to mention only a few. In a picture-like setting in Princeton's Riverside, overlooking Lake Carnegie. $99,000
